

Associate Vice President - IT & GDS Services at InterGlobe Technology Quotient wins
6th NEXT100 Future CIO award

Joins elite group of high achievers and technology leaders

Pune, December 4, 2015

Anil Porter was awarded the NEXT100, and declared as one of India's Future CIOs at the 6th edition of the awards ceremony held on 4 December 2015 at Pune. NEXT100 is a pioneering awards program instituted by ITNEXT magazine (www.itnext.in) that annually identifies 100 senior IT managers who have the skills, talent and spirit to become CIOs.

The selection of NEXT100 award recipients is made by a prestigious committee comprising India's leading CIOs and CFOs who evaluate applicants on career accomplishments, professional expertise, and leadership potential. Anil Porter, who is Associate Vice President - IT & GDS Services at InterGlobe Technology Quotient, has been recognized this year for his professional achievements and potential to lead enterprise technology initiatives with distinction.

To view Anil's online profile, visit <http://next100.itnext.in/winners/2015/A/Anil-Porter/6265>. For more details on the program and a complete list of award winners, visit www.next100.in

About IT Next and 9.9 Media

IT NEXT is India's only platform for IT managers that equips the next generation of CIOs with information on technology strategies, best practices and innovations for improving enterprise IT infrastructure. The IT NEXT platform combines a print magazine, a website, online and offline events to empowering the community of IT managers with information and insights. ITNEXT is a brand of 9.9 Media. 9.9 Media (www.9dot9.in) is one of India's most diversified media companies and integrates its print, online, research and event platforms to serve professional communities like CIOs, CISOs, CFOs, IT professionals, Personal technology enthusiasts and leaders of higher education institutes. For more information on 9.9 Media, please visit www.9dot9.in.