

Travelport announces new agreement with Frontier Airlines

January 12, 2016

Travelport (NYSE: TVPT), a leading Travel Commerce Platform, today announced it has signed a new agreement with Frontier Airlines. Frontier Airlines, based in Denver, Colorado, flies daily to destinations in the United States, Mexico, and the Caribbean.

The new long-term agreement allows Frontier to continue distributing its fares through Travelport's industry-leading Travel Commerce Platform. The Travelport Travel Commerce Platform aggregates travel content from airline, hotel, car and other travel providers across over 68,000 travel agency locations representing more than 235,000 online and offline travel agency terminals worldwide, which in turn serve millions of travellers globally.

"With more than 400 airlines available in our Travel Commerce Platform, including approximately 100 low cost carriers, Travelport continues to deliver unrivaled and leading air content to travel agents and their customers across the world," said Chris Engle, Travelport's vice president of Air Commerce, Americas.
