ETW Staff - Mumbai

InterGlobe Technology Quotient (ITQ), a strategic business unit of InterGlobe Enterprises and the official distributor of Travelport Galileo and Travelport Worldspan, through Calleo Distribution Technologies, has announced the renewal of its multi-year contract with Via.com a leading online travel company. Travelport's global distribution system (GDS) powers Via.com's portal where consumers get an enhanced experience when they book full service airlines.

Sandeep Dwivedi, chief commercial officer, InterGlobe Technology Quotient, said, "ITQ is proud to be part of Via.com's success story where they have been instrumental in revolutionising the Indian travel industry. This contract renewal demonstrates the further deepening of our relationship with Via.com and our ongoing commitment to this strategic partnership. We are committed at offering cost-effective, reliable and cost efficient GDS solutions that bring value to customers."

V Swaminathan, chief executive officer, Via.com said, "Our partnership with ITQ has provided customers of Via.com with consistent 24X7 access to inventories and air fares. We truly value our partnership with ITQ where they have been able to have a significant impact on enhancing end users' experience. With this renewed agreement, along with InterGlobe group synergy, we will be able to add more value in our offerings."
