

Transaero Airlines signs full content agreement with Travelport

Moscow, Russia

Jun 21, 2013

Travelport, a leading provider of critical transaction processing solutions and data for the global travel industry, and Transaero Airlines, Russia's second largest carrier, have announced a new global full content agreement. The new multi-year deal secures access to Transaero Airlines fares, seat availability and schedules for Travelport-connected travel agencies worldwide.

Transaero Airlines is one of the world's leading leisure carriers. The airline offers a wide range of tourist air services thanks to its fleet that consists of predominantly wide-bodied aircraft. The airline's unique route network covers destinations all over the world.

"Being part of Travelport's extensive network is an important part of our distribution strategy to ensure our flights are available to travel agents everywhere. We look forward to working closely with Travelport in launching new products and services for travel agents," said Roman Vdovenko, Sales Director Transaero Airlines. "Travelport's global breadth, technology and merchandising capabilities will ensure we continue to have a very successful relationship for years to come."

Robin Ranken, Head of Airline Relationships, Travelport Europe, said: "The new agreement with Transaero Airlines is excellent news for Travelport and our global travel agency customers. Securing full content delivers many benefits for travel agents, including access to the most competitive fares available."
