

Striving for excellence, Travelport's Galileo introduces 'Student of the Year' contest to encourage GDS students

Travelport Galileo, a world-leading travel commerce platform providing distribution, technology, payment and other solutions for the global travel and tourism industry, today organized its second 'Student of the Year' contest. The contest aimed at creating talent for the travel industry and encouraging academy students to reach standards of high excellence in the Travel and Tourism space. Targeted at for students from travel institutes, the selection process was started on 01 March, while the final round took place at the Ibis Hotel at Aerocity, New Delhi this morning.

The contest is aimed at testing the travel quotient of students, striving for excellence and targeting at creating a talent pool for the industry. Benefiting students who were keen to pursue a career in the travel and tourism space, the selection process for the Student of the Year program was open to all travel institutes associated with ITQ the selection process beginning on 01 March 2015 had over 80 students participating. In an online evaluation. Selected candidates from each institute underwent numerous elimination rounds, thus permitting the panel of experts to shortlist the top 5 students for the final round. Each of the 5 finalists under-went a presentation and Personal Interaction session with the respected panel of judges', after which one student finally claimed the 'Student of the Year' title.

