

Satena Designates Travelport Strategic Technology Partner

Bogotá, COLOMBIA

Sep 17, 2013

Travelport, a leading distribution services and e-commerce provider for the global travel industry, today announces a long-term agreement with Satena – Inter-Administrative Unit, the state-run airline of Colombia. With this alliance, Travelport emerges as the travel technology partner for Satena's inter-administrative travel agency entity, enabling access to global airline content through Travelport's Galileo GDS platform.

Satena - Inter-Administrative Unit will benefit from the technology tools of Travelport's Galileo GDS, which will make the search for national and international air services more efficient and productive; provide availability of more than 100,000 hotels worldwide; car rentals and additional services; as well as making the generation of reservations and itineraries more efficient for the officials of government organizations.

"As one of the airline and travel industry leaders, Satena recognizes the highly beneficial value of airline, hotel and car rental content, and Travelport's other additional services, as well as its strong global presence," said Colonel Miguel Gonzalez, President of Satena.

On the part of Travelport, Scott Hyden, Managing Director of the Americas, affirmed: "We are especially happy to be able to provide the entities and officials attended by Satena at the state level with the complete content of Travelport's Galileo GDS."
